Blocking up the hole was the first order of business for management after the missing items had been itemized.

Theives Hit Feed Store Saturday Night

Thieves hit the Curtis Seed Store last Saturday night, between 8:30 Saturday night and 8 a.m. Sunday. They entered the building by boldly throwing a brick through a plate glass window on the front of the new building. The brick was found lying quietly on a supply shelf on the opposite side of the room by law officers.

Items reported missing on initial inspection included a change box with about $30.00 change, 2 socket wrench sets, several pair of sunglasses, some odd tools and screwdrivers and possibly some cigarettes. Several loose tools were found scattered outside the building by Sheriff Neil Grantman as he followed footprints of three persons across a nearby plowed field.

Grantman looked up the tools he found in the yard along with several on the floor inside and some of the broken glass. He planned to later check them closely for fingerprints. There was signs that attempts were first made to get in the front door but this effort failed.

Owners Jim DuBoise and Charles Cowan discussed the break-in and both showed disgust at the thieves. "The broken window will cost more than everything they got," they both indicated.

The break-in was first reported by Mrs. Dorothy Daniels, who saw the broken glass as she was passing early Sunday morning.

The police and fire departments could possibly be moved, but no decision has been made.

New Armory Bids To Be Let On April 27

The long-awaited new building for the local National Guard unit will soon be a reality. The State Military Department began advertising for bids on construction of the building this week. Bids will be opened on April 27 at 2:00 p.m. in Room 206 of the State Military Department, 1720 Federal Drive, Montgomery, Alabama.

Construction should be underway by the middle of May and the contractor has 230 calendar days to complete the job from this day the bids are let.

The building will contain 16,170 square feet and will be considered a 100-man armory. It will be a one-story conventional masonry structure with brick veneer exterior wall and concrete block back-up.

The official bid sheets indicate that the military department expects the building to cost between $500,000 and one million dollars.

The building will be located on a five-acre site already across from the Elba airport. The land was donated to the military department several years ago. Upon completion of the new building, the present armory will become the property of the City of Elba. This is a normal policy of the State of Alabama, but in this case the deeds conveying the land to the Guard carried a reversion clause in case the site was no longer used for National Guard purposes.

Current plans are for the building to be converted into use as enlarged facilities for the Elba City Hall.

The police and fire departments could possibly be moved, but no decision has been made.

Above are four members of the local guard unit grinning for the camera just before boarding the bus for summer camp. They were not riding in the back of a 2-1/2 ton truck or worse still walking but true to form for a GI (2 weeks or 2 years) they were grinning about how hard it is! But closer investigation reveals that they will not be sleeping in the woods a single night during this two weeks and the weather in Alabama is not yet the hot western weather and the only trouble they really face is some cool nights and missing the bus to town each day after classes.

Funds Set For Family Of Burn Victim

A special fund has been established for the JOHN C. CORLEY FAMILY OF ELBA. Corley died last Saturday night after receiving 2nd and 3rd degree burns over 50% of his body in a fire at his home on March 28th.

The family has no insurance and medical bills for his treatments were extremely high.

Contributions may be deposited at either the Peoples or Elba Exchange Bank; or call Charlie Kennedy, Chairman of the Fund; or drop by NASCO.

The family consists of Mrs. Corley and two children at home.

Extra Days To Register Listed

The registrar lists extra days for voter registration for the May Primaries. They are April 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 at the Elba Courthouse Annex, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and April 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 19 at the Enterprise Courthouse, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Dorsey Foremen Complete Class In First Aid

Nineteen foremen at Dorsey Trailers recently completed a 20-hour course in Advanced First Aid techniques. Danny Exell, a Red Cross instructor, was instructor for the course.

Those participating were: Standing, L. to R. James H. Bessie, Harold Tucker, Mike Thomas, Tommy Brooks, Fred Kelly, Dolphus Moore, Jim McKinney, Grover Fillingim, Mr. Exell, Sitting: L. to R. Bobby McIntosh, Roy Parrish, Fred Smith, R. D. Harrison, Dallas Farris, James L. Grissett, Sam Orringer, Earl Twilley, Wayne Henderson, Milan Marler, Willie Bozeman.

Mr. Durwood Grimes is shown boarding the bus with the National Guard bound for Ft. Sill. Grimes is also planning for a place on the Coffee County Commission in the May election. People who personally know Mr. Grimes and his opponents Rex Boutwell and Leroy Miller, feel sure that when they feel they have solicited enough votes for themselves, they will get out and help their friend and opponent Durwood Grimes just a little.

Local National Guard Leaves For Camp

The Elba National Guard unit left Saturday morning for Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, where the entire unit will undergo MOS training. Sill is the artillery capital of the world and the unit gun crews will be trained on their new 155 towed guns. Truck drivers, clerks and others will also be trained in their particular specialty. The unit will be at Ft. Sill for two weeks.

The unit left Elba Saturday morning by chartered bus. The buses took them to Indian where they boarded commercial airlines for the trip to Lawton, Oklahoma. They were due to arrive at Lawton about 3:30 p.m. according to Captain Joel Norman, commander of the unit.

Elba CB Club To Meet Saturday

The Elba CB Club will have its regular meeting this Saturday night, April 10, at 7:00 at the City Pool.

Firemen Stand By Set Fire

Some controlled burning at the old Elba Ice House site last week got some local citizens a bit upset. The Elba Fire Department was called to stand by but was not needed as the fire had reached its peak about the time the trucks arrived.

The old building is being torn down to make room for a new store building for OK Tire Stores.

Shown in the foreground watching the action is Jetey Wise, son of Jimmy and Shirley Wise. The fireman in overalls nearer the building is Flournoy Whitman who is also the former owner of the facility.

Legion Selling Bar-B-Q Tickets

American Legion and Auxiliary met Tuesday night, April 6th at Legion Home. Special guests were representatives to Boys and Girls State.

Final plans were made for giant political Rally and Barbecue which will be held Saturday, April 17th. The proceeds from the Barbecue will be shared by the Legion, Auxiliary and Rescue Squad. Advance tickets may be bought from members of Legion, Auxiliary, Rescue Squad, and Business places in Elba.

Wheel chairs sit abandoned in front of the nursing home last Saturday as the owners get away for a pleasant ride around Elba.

Happy faces were shining as the nursing home residents enjoyed the spring air Saturday morning.

City Council Changes Dates Of Meetings

The Elba City Council announces different meeting dates for the next two meetings. They are Monday, April 12 and Tuesday, April 27, both at 6:30.

The Westside bus was loaded with people from the nursing home as they road around looking over Elba on a warm Saturday morning.

Nursing Home Residents Take Ride

Eighteen residents of the Elba Nursing Home took a bus ride around Elba last Saturday morning, thanks to the Westside Baptist Church and driver Nelson Whitehurst. The residents were picked up at 10:30 in front of the nursing home and along with several nursing home employees, made a complete tour of the community. The day was bright and sunny, the weather warm and the men and women seemed to enjoy the trip so well, that additional outings have been scheduled. They will be held every other Saturday throughout the summer.

Several other area churches have indicated their willingness to supply buses for the Saturday outings. They will be used on a rotating basis.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

There was a little bit of excitement around here Monday. The men with the nine bass caught at Moody's Lake asked if we thought their "Redeye Bass" was a state record. Well he did have red eyes and a call to the Birmingham News established that the present record is 6 1/4 pounds. A little more looking and talking with some folks in the know and our fishermen decided that they only had a "large-mouth bass" with red eyes and not a record "Redeye". Anyway it was fun trying!

County politics are still unusually quiet. The election is less than a month away and most of the political talk is coming from the politicians themselves. Normally by this time of the year, everyone is predicting a winner but this year most are just saying, "I don't know". Maybe folks are just keeping their opinions to themselves but if not someone had better get to work shaking folks into making up their mind.

The recreation center in Elba is definitely the "in" place to be these days. With the skaters and the ball players joining those on the inside, it looks like an old fashioned camp meeting almost every night. The recreation complex has been several years in the making and there are dreams of adding other facilities but right now it is something to be proud of.

Mrs. Roy Miller (Nina Meachem) called one day last week from her home in Asheville, N.C. Nina wanted us to tell her friends about their new baby boy. She said he was pretty but then all mothers think that about their own children. If you want to form your own opinion, she said they would be in Elba this weekend, so check with the proud grandparents and they will probably be at one or the other.

Sheriff Neil Grantham was bragging about how the inside of the jail looks now. It seems that he has assigned some of the county inmates to painting the building. They started upstairs and have worked their way downstairs. This is something that saves us all some money. The walls needed painting and the prisoners were bored with sitting around. It did the painting and saved the hiring of painters, especially with county coffers running short of funds to operate on.

The Elba Grand Jury was to reconvene on Monday of this week to hear a report from the county commission. Well there was a conflict with the Circuit Court and the Grand Jury was postponed until April 14 (Wednesday). Now I hear talk of "this ain't a good time for the elected officials to report". The excuse is that this commission will not have time to carry out any of the plans it makes and so why not let the next bunch set up the priorities. Already though I am hearing grumbling that it is just like it has been, the elected official doesn't want to take a stand because it might cost him a vote. It's funny, I agree that elected officials can't really make plans for longer than their term of office, but if the Grand Jury has asked for answers, someone should answer (if they can't stand the heat, they should get out of the kitchen).

Last week we mentioned here that if the doctor who visited Elba recently decided to make Elba his home he would need a four bedroom house. Before eight a.m. the next day a man stopped and put us right on top of one that just fit the bill. Later in the week, two others have entered the picture. Now the problem is to get the doctor willing to move.

PO, PUBL. ADV. BY MARION SANDERS, RT. 2, BRUNDTIDE, AL

Well, I said I'd try some Jeanne Dixon type predictions about this up-coming presidential election...and now I wish I hadn't. But I said it, so here go some surmises, anyway.

First, please realize I'm writing this before the North Carolina primary becomes past history, so you can see I'm really sticking my neck out!

So here comes freckled-faced Jimmy Carter, hopping around, all smiles and a head full of saw-dust, if you ask me...or maybe Georgia peanuts. It is really amazing how a candidate can side-step taking any kind of stand on any vital issues and still pull votes. He sure is sad but true, human nature is such that voters don't always study the candidates' stands. Heck, not so-for-back election Kennedy-Nixon debates? In the true sense of the word, those debates were no contest at all, but the televised airing of voters more than the issues. I guess they interpret all that joshing bobbing around as being the Good Guy in the White Suit.

George Wallace said if he'd known the '76 campaign would be a smiling contest he'd have run Cornelia, his wife (and my daughter). He says she looks better and can sure out-smile the other, and most certainly has more political conviction than ONE of the candidates.

Of course the news media has always been anti-George Wallace, and they've taken every opportunity to try and emphasize his paralysis. They've tried their best to implant in the minds of the voters that George is physically incapable of being president. Nuts! All of us in Alabama know that George thrives on campaigning. He is more vigorous and vital when faced with a challenge than in any other situation.

While George has been consistently pulling his steady vote from his loyal supporters, it's pretty obvious that the voters' minds are stirred by his physical conditions. George and his whole organization felt that any doubts about his capacity to go at break-neck speed would be dispelled once people saw him on a rigorous campaign schedule with no time to rest. Despite that, apparently the news media succeeded in swaying people to this extent: the day after the Florida election, C.B.S. ran a poll among Florida voters AND, two out of five said they'd wanted to vote for George, but did not because they questioned his health!

Now then, so Carter has to peel George in a couple of states. Well, don't count our fighting little judge out YET. One or two primaries don't mean it all. A coalition of blacks, liberals and very young voters did George in, in Illinois. But did you ever hear of such a coalition electing a president. Look at how far that crowd managed to move McGovern.

Suppose Carter takes one state big...then Jackson takes the next state big, and they keep flip-flopping like that. All the time George keeps rolling on with a nice steady second. Come convention time he just might wind up with more delegates than the first way-high, then way-low candidates.

Y'all come, RUBY!

Yours truly,
Bette Ham

Dear Editor:
The Coffee County Heart Association wishes to express their special thanks to all the people who worked so hard in making our campaign such a success. Without these dedicated people we never would have done such a fantastic job in surpassing our goal.

Our deepest appreciation also goes to the news media for their wonderful publicity and support in making all the fund raising such a great success.

A special thanks also goes to the merchants of Elba, New Brockton, and the Kinston area for their generous donations. Also, we cannot forget all the wonderful citizens who gave from their hearts in order that someone else's heart will function.

Again, many thanks to each and everyone of you for your wonderful support. We can always count on YOU, the people of Coffee County.

The Pastor's Corner

ED HENNE
ELBA UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Last week we looked at Peter, probably Jesus' best known disciple. Today let's look at some other disciples: ANDREW was the brother of Simon Peter. He seems to have been a quiet sort of person, and we might expect any brother of Peter to stay in the background. The two were from Bethsaida, but were established in the fishing business at Capernaum, on the Sea of Galilee. Andrew had been a disciple of John the Baptist, and obviously was deeply religious, even before he met Jesus. He was a gentle, helpful person. The significant thing the Bible tells about him is that he was always bringing people to Jesus. When he followed Jesus, he immediately went to get his brother Simon to Jesus also. When Jesus was about the feed the five thousand Andrew brought the boy with him to the lunch to Jesus. When Simon came to meet Jesus, it was Andrew who brought him to Jesus. Have you or I won anyone to Jesus lately? Tradition says that Andrew was an evangelist in an area north of the Black Sea in his later years, and that he died by crucifixion in Greece.

JAMES, THE SON OF ZEBEDEE, was a fisherman in business with his brother John, and likely in cooperation with Andrew and Peter. James' and John's parents were Zebedee and Salome. Salome was herself a follower of Jesus, but she was most ambitious for her sons.

James was probably older than John. He was a "son of thunder," who impatiently wanted to call down fire from heaven upon those who disagreed with him. But he must have had many redeeming qualities, for he, John, and Peter made up the "inner circle" of disciples who were closest to Jesus.

Acts 12:1-3 tells us that James was killed in a persecution of the Jerusalem Church by Herod Agrippa, making him the second of the twelve disciples to die. (Jesus, of course, was first). Being a Christian can be a costly thing. Rather than bringing down physical destruction upon our opponents, we must suffer affliction at their hands for the sake of Christ. But if we give our lives to, and for him, he will give us life that is abundant and eternal.

JOHN, brother of James, had also been a disciple of John the Baptist. He is often called John the Beloved to distinguish him from John the Baptist. He had begun his discipleship with Jesus as a firey "Son of Thunder" like his brother. But the presence and love of Jesus changed him into an apostle of love. We believe he was the one identified in the Gospel of John as "The one whom Jesus loved." If so, he was the only disciple to go to the cross with Jesus. John and Peter were companions in the Jerusalem Church. Tradition says he was not married, but died a very old man. Most Bible scholars have felt he wrote The Gospel of John, the three epistles of John, and the Revelation of John. Perhaps another man named John wrote some of them.

Has being with Jesus made you an apostle of love? Jesus can change our outward actions and inner reactions.

Miss Lee, Mr. Smith Unite
In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Ann Lee and Tony Smith were united in marriage Saturday, March 20 at 3:30 p.m. in Southside Baptist Church of Troy.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Fountain Edward Lee and the late Mr. Lee of Troy. The groom's parents are Mrs. O. L. Davenport of Troy and Raymond Smith, Bolivar, Missouri.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Betty Klapper, organist and Mrs. Robert Pemberton, vocalist. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Klapper played a medley of songs which included "More," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Till There Was You," "O Perfect Love," "Color My World," and "Speak Softly Love." Mrs. Pemberton sang "For Bobby," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell was played as the wedding party entered. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The background for the wedding scene was in colors of blue, yellow and green. Tree candelabras entwined with foliage and arched cathedral candelabras holding palm tapers formed the background for a brass Greenan urn filled with a majestic arrangement of gladiolus, snapdragons, mums, daisies, and woven abbey roses which added a stunning note of beauty behind the bride and groom. In the windows burned melon tapers surrounded by greenery and tied with bows of satin in brass hurricane lamps. The altar rail was banked with greenery and flanked with tree candelabras. Family pews were marked with swags of greenery, love birds and bows of candlelight. The registration table in the church foyer held an arrangement of white gladiolus, rows of ruffles edged with matching lace as did the ruffle at the hem of her skirt. A sash of melon satin accented the empire waistline to carry out the bridal colors.

Terry Smith of Des Moines, Iowa served his brother as best man. Groomsman were James Davis, Randy Head, Jerry Lindsey, Steve Wilkes, all of Troy. Danny Stevens of Montgomery and Jimmy Lucas of Pensacola, Fla. Serving as ushers were Jim Mullis, Rod Sanders, both of Troy, and Ronald Ready of Dothan. They wore candlelight tuxedos accented with brown trim and beige ruffled shirts and bow-ties of melon roses.

Mrs. Lee selected for her daughters wedding a floor-length gown of coral-pink-quiana designed with long sleeves and a v-neckline.

Mrs. Davenport selected a floor-length gown of Romance blue chiffon featuring bubble sleeves and a v-neckline. The mothers each wore a Royal Bouquet of orchid corsage.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fountain Lee of Elba, wore a mauve knit floor-length dress and a cydium orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother entertained with a reception in the activities building of the First Baptist Church.

The guest register was placed over by Mrs. Lyn Sanders. The register was placed on a round table with a floor-length cloth of candlelight satin and an arrangement of melon roses.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with a hand-made cloth of tulle bordered by white satin outlined with white iridescent sequins. Large appliques of clusters of wedding bells, doves and felt roses with sequins and pearls added to the beauty of the cloth. The cloth was made by Miss Lee's aunt, Mrs. Henry Dorsey, of Elba.

A four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with melon bows, roses and lace. The top was adorned with white satin doves and wedding bells.

The gathered floor-length cloth of candlelight satin featuring melon lace covered the punch bowl. A wreath of greenery and grapes encircled the silver punch bowl. Three-branched silver candelabras decorated with clusters of melon roses flanked the punch bowl and silver appointments held nuts and decorated mints in the wedding colors.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Irving Pierce of Alberton and the late Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland Mallory of Elba.

Miss Mallory is a graduate of Kinston High School, Enterprise State Junior College and Troy State University. She is presently employed by the South Central Alabama Mental Health Center in Enterprise.

The groom-elect is the grandson of Mrs. Bertha Mae Copburn and the late Daniel Copburn and Mr. and Mrs. Garland B. Wyatt, all of Opp. Mr. Wyatt is a graduate of Opp High School, Enterprise State Junior College and is a senior at Auburn University. He is a co-op student employed with Alabama Development Office in Montgomery.

Another is hearing the sounds of a wagon train waking up. The teamsters, Junior, Dale, and Cornelle are feeding and watering the wagon teams—Homer and Jethro, Dolly and Stormy, Maud and Times, Blue and Jim, the white mules.
The other riders are caring for their mounts, and I take care of the poultry, Napoleon and Josephine, see whether "Josie" has laid another green egg, and try one more time to teach "Naggy" to crow.
Soon the snail of breakfast wafts over from the chuck wagon's direction and not much later chatter from that way indicates most of the camp members have found the breakfast that Ed and Sarge are so good at concocting.
By 7:00 o'clock, the teams are harnessed and in the traces, the scouts have lined up the riders, and Miss Katie, who is 72 and has been up since 5:30 or 6:00 o'clock a.m., getting Jake ready to ride, is impatient to hit the trail. A local minister is introduced by Steve Stabler, our Alabama Wagon Master; he gives the morning prayer, and the Alabama Wagon Train Pilgrimage to Pennsylvania begins another day on the way to Valley Forge for the big July 4th celebration.
My day usually consists of seeing the Train off and then driving three or four encampment sites ahead and checking last-minute details with local coordinators, making sure publicity is out and correct on radio, T.V. and in newspapers. I get back to the Train by an hour or so after they've encamped, and I make sure everyone knows when and where supper will be served, where showers are available, and what is expected of Steve by the local coordinators in welcoming ceremonies.

The Wagon Train Show is introduced, and usually all the Train personnel stay to watch it, though we've seen it numerous times. The show is the type performance that grows on you, and gets better and the better to the songs become more significant. Without a doubt, the Wagon Train Show is one of the most powerful facets of the Train's efforts to renew the American spirit on its trek back to the Cradle of Liberty.
Some of the best times are around the campfire after all but the Wagon Train personnel have left. We sit around a bottom up-turned bucket, the ground, or logs. We laugh and talk, try to top each other's tall tales, and make jokes about how individuals reacted to the tornado.
"When my horse broke loose with the thunder and lightning, I was knocked on my camper door, opened it, and handed me the reins," Jeanie says. "I lay there in my sleeping bag, trying to figure out how to get my pants on and hold my horse at the same time."
Most everyone is asleep by 9:00 or 9:30 o'clock, because 5:00 o'clock a.m. rolls around early. When you spend 9 to 10 hours in the saddle or driving a team of mules, you're ready for the sleeping bag early.
The Wagon Train is made up of a wide spectrum of people, just as the wagon trains that rolled across the plains to settle our country years ago. But we're modern; we have to return to responsibilities after the Train is over.
July, As Miss Katie says,
"When we get through, though, we may all just spend some time travelling around visiting people we've met on the Train."

A Student's Editorial

It occurs to me that students who pay a dollar for a parking space should be allowed the "privilege" of parking in it. At the beginning of the year, each student who drove a car to school was made to buy a parking permit which gave each student his individual parking space.

I, like many others, purchased this permit with the understanding that the said permit would be legally mine for the school year. However, the ONLY time I have EVER been able to park in the parking space I bought was the day I purchased it. I am forced to park some twenty odd parking spaces down from my parking space.

Last year, the school enforced the parking rules. What is so wrong that they can't do this year?

I feel that students who willingly obey and abide by all rules of the school, and who pay their tuition and don't stay in trouble with the faculty should be allowed AT LEAST the PRIVILEGE of parking in their own parking space.

8:00 a.m. we left our rooms for breakfast. The exhibits were judged at 9:00 a.m. With much excitement, group competitions began at 10:00 a.m. We competed in two levels, Level
I, consisting of Kathy Fuller, Don Miller, Anita Mobley and Jackie Prescott presented "La Guerrilla Phonétique." Level II presented "Un Voleur Hon-nête." Four members of French II were in this skit:
Claude Collier, Heidi Collier,
Johnny Dyess and Ken Martin.
We then enjoyed a so-called break. Afterwards, the general assembly began at 11:30 a.m. at Ferguson Center. The officer clubs presided over the business. Following all business, the new officer clubs of AFFC were installed.
Finally the presentation of awards was made. Elba received second place for their exhibit entitled "Our French Heritage and second place in Level I group competition.
Due to the folding of a club, judges were not provided to judge each club's scrapbook on their French Club activities of 1975-76. However, the scrapbooks were displayed and we were pleased to see that Elba's outshine the other clubs. Monica Towles did the work on this year's scrapbook.
Although all of us were not winners, it was a great experience in which our school was well represented. We left Tuscaloosa and journeyed to Montgomery for lunch. We arrived home at 5:45 p.m.

Calico Fort Schedules Fifth Annual Event

Calico Fort Arts and Crafts Fair will hold its 5th annual event on Saturday and Sunday, April 10 and 11 in Fort Deposit. Calico Fort was begun more than five years ago as a dream in the hearts of the Fort Deposit Arts and Activities Committee. The first show was held in April 1972 and was quite successful. Since that time the event has grown, not only in the number of exhibitors, but in the crowd attending. This year there will be a select group of 250 artists and craftsmen from fourteen states exhibiting their merchandise and an estimated crowd in excess of 20,000 will browse and purchase.

The exhibitors will include artists in every medium, basket weavers, sculpture, wood carvers, candle makers, pottery, jewelry, leather goods, and many other crafts to delight the hearts of young and old.

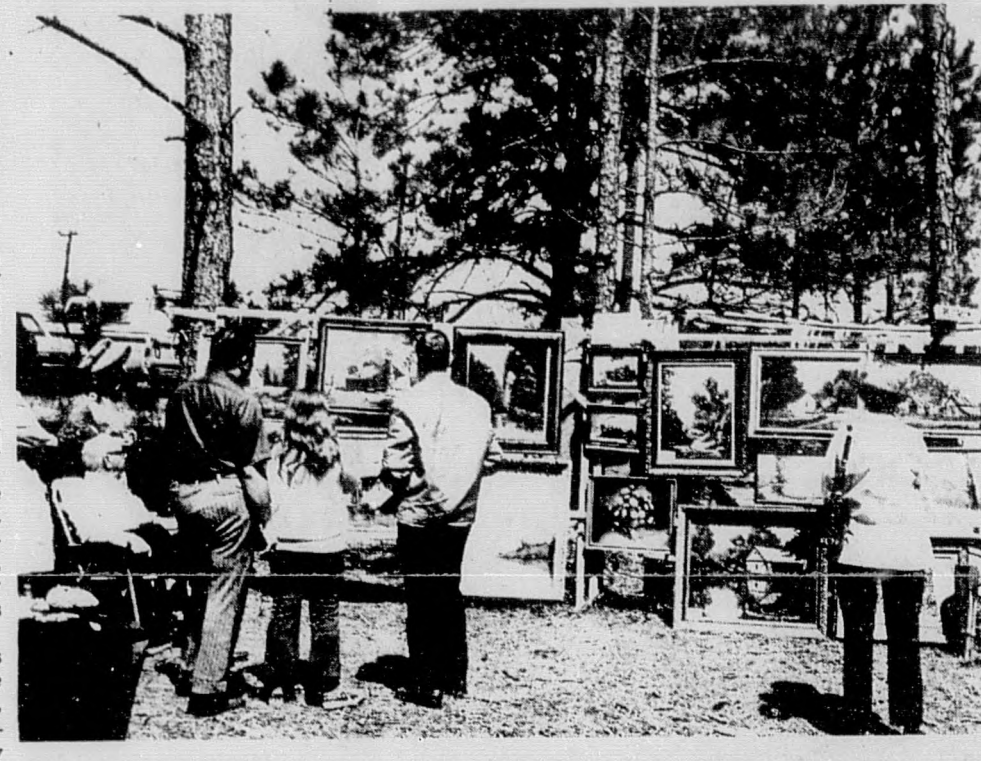

Included in the two days events to entertain will be the Peking Zoo, Indian Dancers, Square Dancers from Montgomery, Pied Pipers from Troy University, and Ghost Stories for the young ones told by Mrs. Katherine Winham under the special Ghost Tree.

Calico Fort is located in a pine thicket, cleared just enough to make walking easy but not to detract from nature's beauty. Added to the smell of fresh air and pine trees, will be the tantalizing aroma of old-fashion barbecue, pork and chicken.

The Americans took new hope, and France entered the war as an American ally. The fighting then moved to the South. The British captured Charleston, South Carolina, and defeated General Gates at Camden, South Carolina. But a French fleet won control of the coast. Moving rapidly, the American and French armies pushed up a British force under Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown, so he could not escape by land or sea. His surrender to Washington in October, 1781, practically ended the conflict.

After the Americans had won the Revolutionary War, they had problems deciding which government they wanted. Then the United States began to expand from Vermont (the first state) to Hawaii (the last state). America has been through eight wars including 200 years of freedom. American is now one of the world leaders. We have rights.

Americans had declared their independence from Britain, but they still had to fight to get it. The British left Boston in 1776, and the war then centered on the middle colonies. General William Howe, the British commander, captured New York City in 1776, and Philadelphia the next year. After defeating Washington on Long Island, he almost captured the main American Army. For a time in 1777, it seemed that British forces would control a line from the Hudson River to Canada, cutting the colonies in two. But Howe's troops failed to join forces with another army coming down from Canada, and General John Burgoyne surrendered to General Horatio Gates at Saratoga in October, 1777. Burgoyne's surrender proved to be the turning point of the war.

CALICO FORT VISITORS view one of the art exhibits during last year's show. This year Calico Fort boasts 250 exhibitors from 14 states. This fifth annual event will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 10 & 11, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Fort Deposit, Alabama.

charcoal hamburgers, hotdogs, french fries and popcorn. Trails to the Fort will be marked with Calico Flags and ladies wearing Calico bonnets and aprons will welcome the visitors. Calico Fort, in Fort Deposit, is located 30 miles south of Montgomery and 15 miles north of Greenville, just off I-65. Gates will be open on Saturday and Sunday, April 10 and 11 from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Admission will be $1.00 per person.

"How The Birds Got Their Wings"

A long time ago in the fourteenth hundred birds did not have wings. During that time a man would come once a month. He could talk and understand many languages, even right down to bird talk. One month he came to the forest first. There he found a bird. He asked the bird, "What do you need and want?"

The bird said, "Wings with gold and silver outline." The man said, "Since you have asked for that you will have to show me a seven pound fish to pay for it."

The bird thought, "Well, a seven pound fish is to heavy so I will get him a three pound fish."

The bird got the man a three pound fish. The man knew it was a three pound fish. He said to the bird, "Now, you have given me your fish."

So the man gave the bird his wings, but they were not silver and gold. That is why birds have wings but not silver and gold ones.

The teacher stands and talks for a short while. Look at the children! Here comes a smile!

The children began to smile and take part. The teacher kept saying, "You're so smart!"

Now the year Has come to an end. We've learned together. We can be friends.

BILL BAGGETT, GRADE 4
The teacher said, "Come out of your shell. You might learn very well." I'll just keep on working this way. Then I might just succeed one day.

Here comes the reading teacher. All dressed in white. Look at her face. It's so bright!

Now, here come the students. All dressed in brown. And on their faces. Lies a big, big frown.

KRAZY QUESTIONS??

IF YOU COULD CHOOSE ONE AGE IN LIFE TO BE, WHAT AGE WOULD YOU CHOOSE AND WHY?

DEBBIE DUNCAN: "19, I wouldn't be too young or too old. I'd be about the right age."

JIMMY LAMBERT: "12, because you never have to worry about girls or about getting any money to take them out."

DIANE STEPHENS: "11, because then I didn't know what love was, and didn't have to worry about falling in love."

KATHY MADDOX: "21, because if I decided to do anything it would be legal and I wouldn't be getting into trouble."

GAIL DAVIS: "14, then I could relieve some of the good old times we used to have, and I wouldn't have to finish school so soon."

ROCKY BRAGG: "18, I'd be graduated and gone!"

RALPH NEWSON: "3, I could start all over again!"

Editorials
Did you believe as we once did, that our library was a place to come simply to get out of study hall and to talk as much as we wanted to? Maybe you were like us and didn't realize the real purpose of a library—to serve us and not to only entertain us. Our library is for learning just like all our classes. Therefore, if you believe the librarian is being unjust to you just because you're in there twiddling your thumbs or making conversation with whomever is around, try to think again of the purpose of the library. The librarian wishes it were possible that everyone could come in at any time on all days and read magazines or look at annuals or scrapbooks, but because there is limited time and space, only one day can be allotted for this purpose. The library's materials for reference or to check out a book.

Yes, I know how to do the "bump."

"We'll go outside tomorrow."

"No, I'm not married."

"C'mere Babe and answer this question right."

"All who are not interested in this work get out of this classroom!"

"Who said they needed to see the nurse?"

"Today we're going to take a trip around the pound!"

Senior Of The Week

Judy Rushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. (Bud) Rushing of Route 5, Elba, is our honored senior this week. She is a member of the Pep Club, Library Aides Club, Beta Club President, and ZCHS Rebel News editor.

When asked what she liked about Z.C. Judy said, "I like the way everyone gets along so well together, especially the blacks and whites."

As for further improvement she said, "I think the school would be greatly improved if more elective subjects were offered and if we had more teachers who would present the material in a better way."

Judy states her pet peeve as people who deliberately tell lies.

more conscientious and hard-working student than Judy is hard to find. She can be serious-minded about important matters, but yet being around her when working and playing is very delightful and lots of fun. We feel that such a balanced attitude is what makes Judy such a success as a student.

In addition, the students, especially the Seniors, are well-mannered, friendly, hard-working, and have a deep concern about their future. A student teacher could not ask for a better school in which to understand his student teaching experience.

To improve the suggested, "Any school has room for improvement. I think Zion Chapel High needs a vocational training program. Many students here are interested in learning a trade while in high school and I think some arrangements should be made to help them toward this goal."

His main interests and pastimes are reading, especially about history and politics, weight lifting and swimming. In addition, he enjoys all sports.

Mr. Boutwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leary V. Boutwell of Elba, Alabama and is married to the former Vickie Grantham of Elba.

When talking to some of the Senior about Mr. Boutwell they are said they feel he is doing an excellent job of teaching and they are all glad to have him!

Chosen as Rebel to Remember is a young man whose day never has a dull moment. He's fun-loving, energetic, happy-go-lucky, and loved by everyone. Our Rebel to Remember is Gene Culver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Culver of Route Five, Elba.

It's nearly impossible to see Gene without a happy smile on his face and once you see him you can't help but smile too!

Gene is a great help in keeping the school clean, and girls; we'll guarantee him to be a good husband if you need a hand with the broom.

Gene is in the 10th grade and he is certainly a great asset to Z.C. We're all glad Gene has a few more years here with us because without him here the halls of Z.C. High would most assuredly be emptier.

Kathy Maddox always is doing something to make Z.C. proud of her and now she has added another honor to her long list when she recently won the Senior Girls 4-H Dress Review. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Maddox of Route two, Troy. She is pictured here wearing her prize-winning outfit.

TEEN THINKERS

IF YOU HAD BEEN ON PATTY HEART'S JURY HOW WOULD YOU HAVE VOTED AND WHY?

JIMMY LAMBERT: "Guilt, because she had plenty of chances to escape and she didn't; like when she was holding the machine gun at the bank."

DIANE STEPHENS: "Guilt, because of all the evidence against her."

GAIL DAVIS: "Guilt, because of the evidence—it all seemed against her to me."

KATHY MADDOX: "Guilt, because of the way she kept changing her story."

Z.C. Has Basketball Banquet

To close out the 1975-76 basketball season, a banquet was held Friday night, March 26, in the school lunchroom. The theme and the decorations were very appropriate for both this Bi-centennial year and out teams—the them being "Super Stars" and the decorations red white, and blue stars and streamers.

The guest table was decorated with a red basketball, with red, blue, and gold stars, as centerpieces. To its side was a large blue candle. Each table had red and blue candles as centerpieces. All decorating was done by the cheerleaders and their sponsors.

Coach Johnny Sanders presented the innovation and our guest speaker was Dr. Donald J. Barras of Troy State University. He spoke on arteriosclerosis and physical fitness and made a few humorous comments.

Mrs. Jo Ann Lindsey presented the Senior Varsity Cheerleaders, Quenne Gatin, and Catherine McClain, with trophies. The remaining members of the squad, Glenda Beiside, Patty Nelson, Maxine Youngblood, and Bernice Adair, were each presented with gifts.

Mrs. Pat Powell presented the cheerleaders with gifts of appreciation. The cheerleaders were: Wanda Wambles, Melinda Nelson, Doris Hall, Beth Spear, Margaret Arnold, and Sandra Grant.

Plaques were presented to the Senior basketball players by Coach Mike Lindsey. They are: Tim Sanders, Tracy Deal, Paul White, James Miller, Jet Multry, and Randolph Multry. Coach Lindsey also presented the "Mr. Hustle" award to senior James Miller. Coach John F. Hudson presented the "Best Defensive Player" award to senior Randolph Multry. Presented the "Best Offensive Player" award was Coach Johnny Sanders. The award went to senior Jet Multry. Coach Lindsey presented the "Most Valuable Player" award to senior Tim Sanders, who was also voted Team Captain by his teammates.

Coach Lindsey, Coach Hudson, and both cheerleader sponsors, Mrs. Lindsey and Mrs. Powell were presented with plaques or gifts of appreciation from the teams and cheerleaders.

Volunteers Needed For Cancer Crusade

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime! That is why we need you to volunteer for the American Cancer Society's 1976 educational and fund raising Crusade," said Whit Armstrong, Chairman of the Coffee County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

"Our action programs which motivate people to discuss facts about cancer and commit them to regular health checkups are carried into all the communities of Alabama by more than 30,000 Alabama volunteers," Armstrong said.

"The volunteers in this great fight against a great common enemy come from all walks of life. This people-to-people contact alerts neighbors, relatives and friends to cancer's warning signals and helps raise fighting funds," the chairman noted.

"During this Bi-centennial year the challenge is ever greater. We must reach out to those we may never have contacted before. Every house in the County must be visited in Crusade 1976 beginning April 1," said Armstrong.

"Everyone who believes health is beautiful is needed by the American Cancer Society. You can contact us at 897-2651 in Elba," the chairman announced.

LAND CONTEST

The Enterprise High School Land Judging team won the 1976 contest held recently at Martin Moore's farm just off Highway 84 East. Team members were Billy Martin, Mike Simmons and Tim Ellis. This team will represent Coffee County at the District Contest at Hartford.

All schools having an Agriculture Department were represented - Elba, Enterprise, Kinston, New Brockton, Elba was second place winner and Kinston third. They were awarded trophies and banners.

The teams judged three different soil types and land uses. The land uses were pasture, cropland and woodland. The judging situation is supposed to represent real life conditions and the recommendations are to be realistic.

Some of the factors considered were: surface texture, permeability and drainage. The soil is classified in one of seven categories which in turn determines what is the best land use. Each land use has practices that accompany it, such as sloping cropland requires terraces and each of these factors was also marked by the student.

High school boys and girls who participate in this contest find it very interesting and rewarding. Many of the previous land judging contestants have gone on to pursue careers in the Soil Conservation Service, Forestry Service, farming or Extension Service where knowledge of the land and soil is essential. Every student in high school should contact the Agriculture teacher for further information.

GARDENING
M. D. Bond, our former peanut specialist and now gardening specialist, has a great enthusiasm going for gardening. Through his leadership the past 15 years, a lot of farmers have made progress in peanut production.

He mentioned recently that staggered plantings of sweet corn will provide sweet corn over a longer period of time. One way to do this is to divide your corn land in two or three sections and plant at two to three week intervals.

He gives specific recommendations on row planting corn. Several short rows. Corn planted in single rows often germinates poorly and forms scatter-grain ears. Incidentally, Silver Queen, a late white corn variety, is a good choice to plant later in the season. It has excellent quality and will

For other necessities. For example, between 1973 and 1975, price hikes in medical care, gasoline, electricity, oil and coal were more than twice as much as the increase in clothing costs.

CLEANING IRONS
Nobody really likes to iron. But you can make the chore a little easier by keeping the soleplate of your iron clean.

To clean the stainless steel soleplate of a dry iron, first unplug the appliance. Apply a paste-type silver polish to the soleplate with a soft cloth, using a circular motion. Then buff with a clean, lint-free cloth. Use very fine steel wool for badly stuck spots.

To clean the bottom of a steam iron, use a cloth dipped in water with mild soap. For sticky spots, rub dry baking soda on with a cloth, plastic scouring pad, or an old toothbrush. Be extra careful if the plate has a non-stick coating. Then rinse the bottom with clear water and dry.

Use a cotton swab dipped in clear water—or a toothpick—to clean the steam vents.

PIE CRUST
To give your pies a new flavor, add ground nut meats to the pie shell pastry. Peanut crust is great with chocolate filling, and pecan is delicious with butterscotch. Speaking of peanuts, a snack kids love, and a relatively low cost one considering its high nutritive value, so peanuts. Buy them raw, shell them, then dry roast in a 300 degree oven about an hour. No need to blanch—skins are edible, too.

CLEANING FREEZER
Now that gardening season is upon us, you will want to have your freezer clean before you start freezing fresh vegetables from your garden this spring and summer.

It's a good idea that you have your freezer as empty as possible before you start cleaning. Then you won't have to worry about where to store frozen food while you're working on the appliance.

Rules for cleaning your freezer are much the same for cleaning the refrigerator. The best guide is the instruction booklet that comes with your freezer. It will explain how to defrost your model, if it needs defrosting.

Here are some other tips to help make cleaning easier. Clean the outside of the appliance, first unplugging the electric power cord. Then, run water and clean baskets, removable shelves and other parts that can be taken out.

If necessary, defrost. Next, wash the inside with a baking soda solution using two tablespoons baking soda to one quart water. Don't use strong detergents. Remove stubborn stains with a sponge and mild soap and water. Then, rinse with clean water and wipe dry before putting the shelves, etc. back in.

If the freezer has coils on the back, clean them occasionally with a vacuum cleaner or a brush to help the appliance run more efficiently.

cattlemen with complete records of their production and also how to do repairs. Extension Farm Agent Dan Presley told me about their recently completed 4-H Small Engines Demonstration held at the Farm Center. About 15 4-H'ers participated. The winners in the Jr. Division were Stephen Presley—first place, Chris Dubois—second place, and Wetzel Weeks—third place. Sr. winners were Ronny Brunson—first place, Rod Strickland—second place, and Byron Parrish—third place.

POND WEEDS
Bill DeHaven, sales representative of Chla-Geigy, is very enthusiastic about a new material his company has developed for weed control in ponds. The company has recently been given a label on Aquazine. This material should be very effective in controlling algae and many other pond weeds. Results should be seen within seven days after application.

Ponds can be treated without harm to fish. Ponds may also continue to be used for swimming. Probably the best time to treat Coffee County ponds is between April 1 and May 15.

We have hundreds of ponds in Coffee County that need treatment with this material or some of the others that are recommended. I will be glad to provide additional information to those who are interested.

TIGER BASEBALLERS OPEN SEASON TODAY

The Elba Tiger baseball team opens its season today against the Charles Henderson Trojans of Troy.

Game time is 3:30 p.m., and the game will be played at Legion Field, in the Elba Recreation Complex.

Elba coach Hinton Johns reported that the Tigers will field a young team, but expects them to mature quickly and win some games.

Coach Johns added that, "Pitching is the key to a successful season. We don't have an experienced pitcher on our staff, but we've got some kids who will give it all they've got."

Elba will play three (3) games a week during the season, and all games will start at 3:30 p.m.

Those were the words of Zion Chapel football coach Johnny Sanders when interviewed Monday about Friday night's football jamboree.

Coach Sanders reported that 29 boys are out for football, but only two starters are back from last year's team. The returnees are Larry Green at center, and Rayvon Boyd, at safety.

"We've got a young, inexperienced team, but I expect our pride and desire to help us perform well under pressure. We're definitely going out there to win!"

Those were the words of Zion Chapel football coach Johnny Sanders when interviewed Monday about Friday night's football jamboree.

Coach Sanders reported that 29 boys are out for football, but only two starters are back from last year's team. The returnees are Larry Green at center, and Rayvon Boyd, at safety.

"We have improved quite a bit during spring training," said Sanders, "and our young men have picked-up the new offensive and defensive alignments real well."

The "Bright Spot" of spring training has been the running of backs. Ralph Newsome and Rayvon Boyd.

Newsome saw limited action last season behind Earl Jarrint, while Boyd is playing offense for the first time.

Ralph and Rayvon have looked good throughout the spring," remarked Sanders, "and though they don't have true, breakaway speed, they do have super moves."

Coach Sanders also reported that two players are working at quarterback. The duo are Tim Wambles and Jerry Downing.

Wambles saw a little action last season as wide-receiver, while Downing is out for football for the first time. Both players are showing good progress, and both should see action in the jamboree.

"The key to our success in the jamboree is how well our inexperienced players come out," said Sanders, "We've got four boys who have any experience at all."

Coach Sanders reported that the defense has been ahead of the offense in spring drills, but added, "You expect that because everybody knows how to tackle a little before they ever step on the field."

In closing, Sanders said, "We are young, but we'll be ready!"

RODEO BEGINS TONIGHT AT FARM CENTER

The Elba Jaycees will sponsor a Rodeo tonight and tomorrow night, April 8 and 9, at the Coffee County Farm Center in New Brockton.

The events will begin at 8:00 p.m. both nights.

Included among the exciting events are Bull Riding, Saddle Bronc Riding, calf roping, and Steer Wrestling.

Bull Riding is considered by most rodeo performers as the most dangerous event in the rodeo. Because cattle have a much looser hide than horses, bulls are even tougher to ride than most people think.

The cowboy must ride for 8 seconds with a single handhold to qualify. His hand is wrapped in a flat braided rope and only the strength of his grip determines how well he can ride.

Saddle Bronc Riding is an 8 second ride which seems like an eternity to its participants. Each cowboy uses an identical saddle, and again a single handhold is used. This time the cowboy hangs onto a bucking rein fastened to the horse's halter.

Calf roping is a coordinated effort of man and horse against time. A dependable, true-working horse is a must in this event as every move the roper makes is planned to coincide with his mount. After a catch, the roper must dismount, throw the calf by hand, tie any three legs and signal the judges by raising his hands. Winners in this event are separated by only tenths of a second.

Steer Wrestling was developed in the rodeo arena and was never a part of ranch work. This event is a series of practiced moves executed by a team of two men and two horses. The contestant, aided by another rider, leaps from a running horse to the steer's horns, brings the animal to a stop and throws him to the ground.

steer must be flat on his side with all four legs extended before the clock stops.

The Jaycees Rodeo should be an exciting evening for the entire area. The evening for the entire area.

Be Prepared For Possible Tax Audit

Although there are only two chances out of a hundred that your income tax return will be audited by the Internal Revenue Service, it's smart to be prepared for that possibility, Bank of the Southeast says.

The March issue of the bank's "Consumer Views" newsletter explains just how to protect yourself against errors that may result in an audit and what to expect if you do run up against one.

First of all, the consumer experts say, you should always remember that even when someone else prepares your return, including an IRS "assistant," you are responsible for its accuracy. So choose your preparer carefully and check the work done for you before you sign and file the return.

Second, hang onto copies of your return, receipts, and cancelled checks and other records that support your return at least until the statute of limitations expires. That runs out -- three years from the filing date.

In fact, it's probably a good idea to keep those records a lot longer since the IRS has six years to audit you if you don't report more than 25% of your income. And there's no time limit if you failed to file a return or the IRS suspects fraud. These records form the core of your defense if you get hit with an audit.

Remember that a routine audit doesn't mean the IRS suspects you of cheating. Your return may have been chosen purely at random. The IRS itself reports that many audits close without any change in your tax liability and others result in the taxpayer getting a refund.

Routine audits fall into three categories: correspondence, office and field audits.

For a "correspondence audit," the IRS simply wants more information to justify one or two items on your return. You can send an explanation by return mail, along with copies of the records you need to support it.

If the records are too bulky and extensive, or the item not clearly explained by them, you can ask the IRS bility, Bank of the Southeast says.

Make sure you organize your records and go over your explanations before you appear. Try to have some explanation ready on items for which you lack substantiating records.

Be sure you respond to a "correspondence audit" notice before the deadline or the IRS must rule against you and send you a bill for more taxes.

A notice for an "office audit" will list a specified time for a face-to-face meeting at the nearest IRS office. On the back of the notice, checked items will tell you what's up for audit -- medical expenses, contributions, etc., for example, an attorney, a spouse, a CPA, or the person who prepared your return.

Anti-Litter Gets State Boost

The Alabama State Highway Department is adding the April Anti-Litter Campaign in Elba. The accompanying photograph shows the trash and bottles they collected on three highways within the city limits - Kinston, Brundidge and Troy - and only on small portions of those.

The committee promoting Clean-up Month is composed of Mrs. Iva McCree, chairman; Mrs. May Bryan, both members of the Azalea Garden Club; and Mrs. Jo Bailey, president of the Magnolia Garden Club.

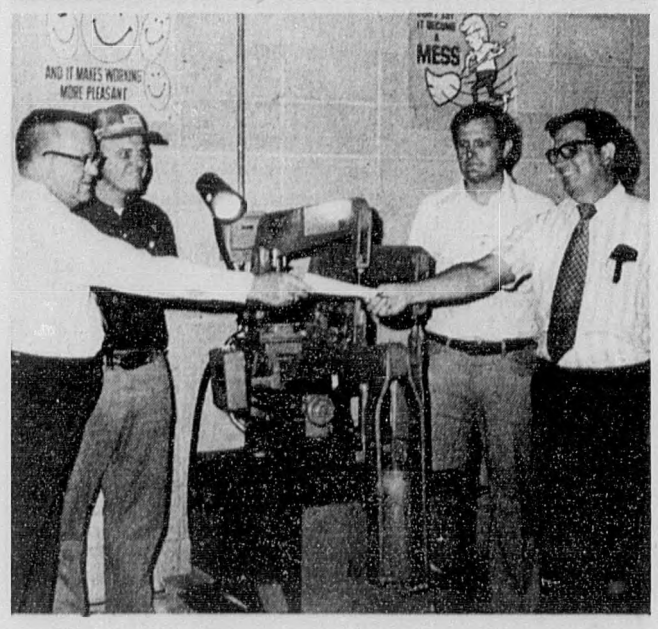

Personnel who aided in the trash pick-up are: Fred Lee, guard; Wilson Cole, Joe Billy Towles, John Henry Russell, Billy Jack Senn, James Fabris and Will Phillips.

"We appreciate the efforts of these men toward beautifying our town," said Mrs. McCree.

Local Rotary Gives To Crippled Children

Mr. Carlace Flowers, Director of the Southeast Alabama Crippled Children's Clinic in Dothan, is shown accepting a $500 check from Elba Rotary President Robert Davis, for the clinic.

School Gets City Check

Mayor Sam Sawyer and Mr. Charlie Hayes, Chairman of the Light and Water Board presented a check for $1,400 to Elba High School to be used toward the purchase of a Downard Hydraulic Iron Worker (Steel Cutting Machine). The machine is to be installed and used by the welding shop at the school.

This machine will cut metal at all angles, and is more efficient than a cutting torch, thereby eliminating the use of the torch. The cutting torch is more expensive and hazardous for students to use.

One of the main features of the new machine is its safety devices.

Mr. Donald Lawford, Welding Instructor at Elba High, will dismantle and rebuild a larger boom for use on the city pole truck in installing light lines.

"This was a cooperative effort between the city and the school that we hope will be very beneficial to both parties," said Superintendent Elmer Taylor. "We do appreciate the interest the city officials have in the Elba city schools."

Kinston Man Arrested For Rape Sunday

Rayford Gilmore, age 37, of Rt. 1, Cyp (Kinston), is in the Coffee County jail charged with rape of a 17 year old girl.

The rape reportedly happened about 7:30 Sunday evening. Gilmore was arrested about 11:30 p.m. Sunday night by officers of the Coffee County Sheriff's Department.

The seventeen year old girl was examined at an Oph hospital where doctors confirmed the rape had occurred. Gilmore is being held in the county jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond. Preliminary hearings will be held Friday.

Cow Sale Attracts Young Observer

Kyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Padgett. Mother is shown holding on as Kyle strains to see what is going on in the sale ring.

The Cattlemen's Association reports a very successful sale with plenty of buyers and cattle and very good prices.

Youth Government Day Set For April 29th

The City of Elba has set April 29th as Youth Government Day in Elba. The Youth Council will elect students who will spend the day filling in as city officials. The decision was made Monday night at the city council meeting at the request of youth council member Gavin Ellis.

TAKES OUT METERS Council Adds Sales Tax

The Elba City Council met Monday night in a meeting postponed from the previous week, due to several councilmen being out of town. As expected, the climax of the meeting was the passing of an additional 1% sales tax to be effective June first.

The matter didn't come up until about half way through the meeting, and then the councilmen began a heated discussion that resulted in mass confusion. Two votes were taken on imposing the tax when Councilman Charles Ellis was made, Councilman Ellis said, "It is evident that we need additional revenue and evident we have a budget we prepared which totals $950,000. You are proposing a 1% sales tax and we have a deficit of $42,000, which is less than half the proposed tax."

Ellis also noted, "A sales tax is one of the most regressive forms of tax we have. You are going to affect old people on fixed incomes, etc." He mentioned the possibility of imposing a tobacco tax or additional gasoline tax.

Vaughan noted that Elba streets need repair badly, hospital is barely getting by and schools are virtually out of money for new projects.

The motion to impose the tax was made by Councilman

Vaughan called for the question (vote on motion). This is where the real confusion began. After this was seconded and during heated discussion, the confusion was such that a debate began over whether the vote taken was on the call for the question or on the actual motion. During this time Ellis offered an amendment to cut the tax by 50%. This died immediately for lack of a second.

The vote on the sales tax was 4 in favor and one against, with Ellis shouting his "no" vote, as he had shouted his "no" vote to cutting off debate.

PARKING METERS

The next matter discussed was a request by Coleman to have the parking meters put on the agenda. He tried to make a motion to remove them at this time, but it was later moved to the last meeting on the agenda. This was not done before Ellis said, "I think this is a cheap shot at the people. I am absolutely against putting on an additional tax and then taking out the meters to throw them a crumb."

Ellis then tried to put the matter on the agenda for the last meeting in September, after the city elections. This failed also.

At the end of the meeting, the council again discussed the parking meters and voted 3-2 to remove them as soon as possible. Voting for the removal was Councilman Coleman, Carpenter and Vaughan. Voting against removal were Ellis and Sharpless.

Accident Puts Women In Hospital

A two-car accident Wednesday sent one woman to the hospital. The accident occurred at the intersection of Court and Simmons (Sears and Martin's).

Drivers of the two cars were Charles Tim Boutwell and Idalia Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter was taken to the hospital and admitted for observation. Her car was removed by a wrecker.

Boutwell was uninjured and drove his car away.

According to police reports, Boutwell, driving a 1970 Chevrolet, was driving north

Excited Cow Breaks Neck

Elba policemen turned cow-boy this week when a fall-broer destined for the butcher pen broke out and was roaming the streets of Elba. After she was roped and tied to a light pole while the owner, Mr. Robert Kilcrease, went for a trailer to haul her to Elba Custom
